RE: FoodSafePal Food Class Review

The First District Health Unit (FDHU) Environmental Health division has reviewed the food class submitted for approval. Employees at licensed food establishments who cook, prepare, or handle food, or who wash dishes or clean food contact equipment, are required to complete and pass an approved food education course per our 2024 Food Code. This class has met all specifications required to be an approved food education course with First District Health Unit. Please update our department if any changes occur to the currently approved class.
